TO COST ONE MILLION

Addition to the Government Hospital for the Insane.

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS APPROVED

New Buildings to Accommodate One Thousand Patients.

SOME CHANGES IN VIEW

The tracings of the plans for the addition to the Government Hospital for the Insane, authorized by Congress to be constructed at a cost of $1,000,000, have received the final approval of Secretary Hitchcock of the Interior Department and Dr. A. B. Richardson, superintendent of the institution, and have been forwarded to the proper persons for the preparation of the blue prints. It is estimated that 1,400 sheets of blue prints will be returned for the use of the department and the bidders. The plans as approved provide for the construction of fifteen buildings, to be occupied by inmates and employees. Several domestic buildings, such as kitchens, boiler house, etc., remain to be provided for.

The extension, to accommodate not less than 1,000 patients and 200 employees, Dr. Richardson, superintendent of the asylum, last evening expressed himself as gratified that the labors of the board of visitors and himself in conjunction with the firm of Boston architects, covering a period of a number of months, in the preparation of the plans had been so satisfactorily closed. Dr. Richardson stated the plans are as complete in every particular as any of a similar character he had ever seen, even to the most minute detail. He added that there has been no extravagance aimed at or attained in the treatment of these new buildings. They are to be erected on a plain, the exterior, with comparatively little stone trimmings, while in their facilities for the care, treatment and housing of the insane they will be completely equipped. In the world, special attention having been given them in these respects.

Style of Buildings. The buildings will be constructed in what is called the old Maryland farm house style, of either pressed or red brick, with slate or tile roofs.

It is expected that bids will be advertised for by July 1 next, and that the contracts may be awarded in August, after which no time is to be lost in starting work. With the construction of the new addition a general and better classification of inmates than now exists. This feature Dr. Richardson kept in view while planning for the extension.

The plans as approved show eight buildings to be constructed on the present site of the asylum buildings west of Nichols avenue, and seven buildings to be placed immediately opposite east of Nichols avenue and adjoining the town of Congress Heights. A subway beneath the avenue will connect the two sites. The buildings to be erected on the main asylum tract have been located in the vicinity of what are called the Toner buildings. In the southern limits, affording the best site and view obtainable for additional new buildings on the home tract. These buildings will be reached from Nichols avenue by a gate near the proposed subway and from the present populous part of the asylum by a handsome winding boulevard, to build which the old stables, the gas house and the large granary are to be razed.

To Front on Broad Court. These new structures will front on a broad court. In this section of the plans is shown a group of three buildings within easy access of the entrance from Nichols avenue and bordering upon the boulevard. They are to be a new administration building and two hospital structures, and will be connected by colonnades. Each structure will be about 250 feet long. The administration building, where the office of the institution will be located, and which will serve as a central distributing point, will be three stories in height and will be razed.

One of the hospital buildings will be for males and one for females. West of the Toner group is shown a building for convalescent female patients, accommodating fifty inmates, and provided with single rooms for special classes of cases which require particular treatment. This is a two-story building.

Due north of the Toner buildings there will be placed one two-story cottage for a medium class of fifty female patients. Southwest of the Toner group will be constructed a cottage, two stories in height, for female epileptic inmates, with provisions for about fifty patients. In this building there will be a large observation dormitory, where the inmates will be always under the eye of the nurses after retiring hours. Just south of the Toner buildings, on the old orchard ground, Dr. Richardson has located another cottage for a medium class for about fifty patients. All the cottages will be two stories in height and will have sitting rooms with adjoining verandas on the first floor and sleeping apartments on the second story.

At the south end of the court before mentioned and next to the south wall of the institution will be constructed one of the two buildings for female employees. This will accommodate 100 persons, chiefly nurses and attendants, and will be a three-story building. On the first floor will be a general reception room, library and music rooms. In addition to bath rooms. On the second and third floors will be the sleeping apartments, each to accommodate 100 nurses. The subway will be constructed at the extreme southeast corner of the main grounds and will be about 800 feet long. It will be wide enough to admit of the passage of teams and food cars. It will be provided with ornamental retaining walls and will be paved throughout and have the sides lined with enameled brick. It will be so constructed that future improvements to Nichols avenue will not be an interference with its use.

Quarantine for Violent Patients. In the group of buildings located on the plateau adjoining Congress Heights, and which likewise front on a circular court, will be a large somewhat isolated structure, capable of accommodating 120 violent and disturbed female patients. The building will have four wards and white and colored inmates will occupy separate wings. It will be 300 feet long and will have two stories. Each ward will contain single rooms, and there will be an associated dormitory, large sitting room and covered porches adjoining.

In a pleasant location fronting on Nichols avenue there is shown a three-story building for male employees, the principal building of the group east of the avenue. It is similar to the structure across the street for the use of the female employees. Back and to the east, arranged around a court 400 feet wide, is a group comprising three cottages, similar to those in the female section, and one building for the disturbed male class, and one for the undisturbed male employees. With the exception of the employees' building and the one for the disturbed female patients, this plateau group will be devoted entirely to white male inmates.

Changes Rendered Necessary. When these new structures for patients are completed and occupied by the respective classes assigned to them some changes will necessarily occur in the old portion of the hospital. The present administration building, for instance, with its wing for the women patients, will be given up entirely to white male patients. In fact, all this section of the institution will then become a hospital for males only. The new group about the Toner buildings has been designed as an almost exclusive female department. The main Toner building is to be remodeled and made in harmony with the new extension.

The equipment of the new buildings will be complete. Hot and cold air will be conveyed by a fan and duct system, and foul air will be drawn out in a similar manner. The heating and lighting appliances will, under the contracts, be installed in each building, but will be distributed from a central heating and lighting plant. In each case of the hospital buildings there will be a large operating room lined with marble. The lavatories will be lined with marble also. In the new extension the separation of white and colored patients has been carried out as far as possible.

The Saks Stores

Largest Exclusive Men's and Boys' Outfitters South of New York.

The Improvement Sale Charges On Staple Lines Tomorrow.

It'll be the big day of the sale. Kann's stocks of Men's Furnishings, Boys' Clothing and Sporting Goods will get their severest knifing. Our own regular lines—those that will interfere with the progress of the improvements—will present an array of special inducements that are truly and surely matchless and must appeal strongly to seekers after the best cheapest.

The Wind-up of the Men's Suit Sale.

Arranged for four days—reductions made with that time-limit in view. So you are buying even lower than if we'd had longer warning. But the contractors demand to begin Monday morning.

What a condition. That makes bargains of the most active lines—that takes Suits that are praised and popular and cuts the prices. This is just as big an opportunity as it appears—every Fancy Cheviot—every Fancy Cassimere—every Fancy Tweed—every Fancy Homespun—every Suit in the house, except the plain weaves and the "featherweights," is included.

Anybody who knows this store and its methods knows that every one of the Suits is not alone stylish in pattern and cut—but positively of this season's make—our make mostly—under our exclusive control surely. Those that were $10 and over are "Fit Reform" Suits.

You only have tomorrow in which to reap this extraordinary advantage—

Excelsior Club Outing.

Excelsior Literary and Musical Club closed up its year's business at a session, by the spring in the dell, at Glen Echo, Tuesday afternoon. It reviewed its work for the past twelve months under the administration of Mrs. Clara Kalstrom, president, and Mrs. A. H. Frear, secretary, and found it successful and gratifying. Through its committee on year book, Mrs. A. G. Powell, chairman, reported the outlook for the new year under the administration of Mrs. J. L. McCreery, president, and Mrs. Jennie Bradley, secretary, as promising. The club during the next season, which will be installed. The trip will be taken in essays written by members selected upon the countries covering the entire circuit. In the early evening a group of gentlemen friends of the club visited the glen, took tea with the ladies and participated in a delightful program arranged by Mrs. Hawkes. This included a recital, reminiscent in character, by Mr. J. L. McCreery, and a series of patriotic songs by Mr. Wm. Emerson, assisted by Gen. Hawkes, Mr. A. H. Frear and members of the club. George Briscoe, colored, of 2525 I street, was released on his personal bonds in the Police Court today. He was charged with having assaulted Nellie Briscoe.
